

TIGERDOGART

ALEX TRUESDALE

Illustrator

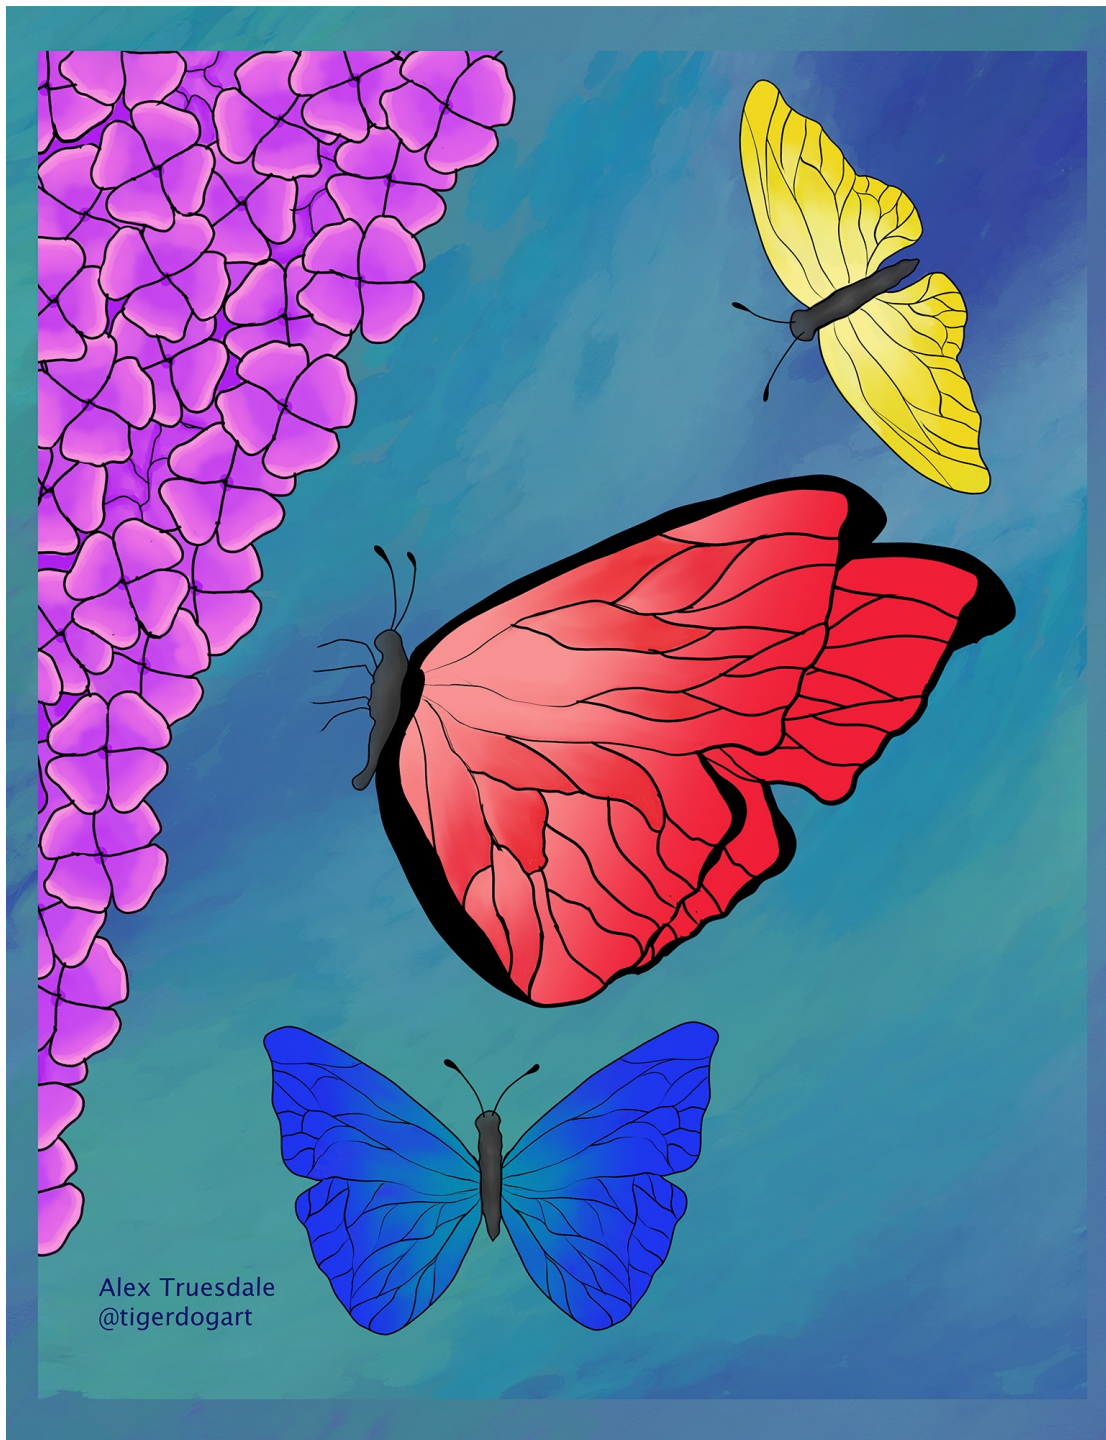

Tigerdog
art

Bird Totem

Adobe Photoshop

Starting with research of different birds and sizes, I created this based on the types I liked as well as those that fit the size criteria.

Butterflies

Clip Studio Paint

Starting from the base of a previous artwork, the butterflies took shape. The wing gradients were easy and fun to work on specifically.

Bearded Dragons In The Wild

In the wild, bearded dragons are found in rugged outback of Australia. They can be easily kept and bred in captivity, however there are different species of bearded dragons occurring all over the different parts of the Australian continent.

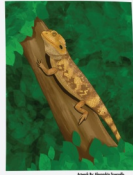

The natural habitats of bearded dragons in the nature are arid, rocky, semi-arid regions, or sand dune environments. These are the natural places they like to climb and perch around these places, such as trees, logs or an pile of rocky outcroppings. Bearded dragons are quite omnithorax reptile, sometimes you may even see them perch on boughy areas. It might be somewhere in the garden of somebody's house. This is why people call them perching bearded dragon.

If you notice, one of the noticeable characteristics of bearded dragon is the parking sign. In the wild, it shows the dominance of them, the higher the parking location, the more dominance of this bearded dragon in their community.

Bearded dragons might be aggressive in fighting for their territory in the out wild habitat, especially for male dragon. A high parking bearded dragon always show "this is my area, do not come close and challenge me!" type of message. This happens in captivity as well. If you house your bearded dragon together please make sure there is sufficient room for them to move around and have their own territory.

Perching and basking under the sun is the favorite daytime activity of bearded dragons. They are diurnal reptile, active in daytime. They need the high temperature to warm and warm up their body. In the early evening, they are found on high temperature rocks because the rocks are still hot and they need to be warmed surface.

Even bearded dragons like to soak under the sun for a long time. However, they will show themselves if it's too hot for them. The warning sign is rattling down of the body temperature is the behavioral thermoregulation of bearded dragons. You can notice this in their basking position and get up to proper thermal level condition for your reptile and in this is actually important to them.

Look to their heads.

During the winter season, you can hardly see bearded dragons because they are hiding and stay dormant to make the metabolic due to lack of food consumption. This is the same liberation of bearded which is normally happen to your bearded dragon. The liberation happens in the captivity as well. Don't be surprised if you see this happen to your bearded dragon. They will not again when the time comes.

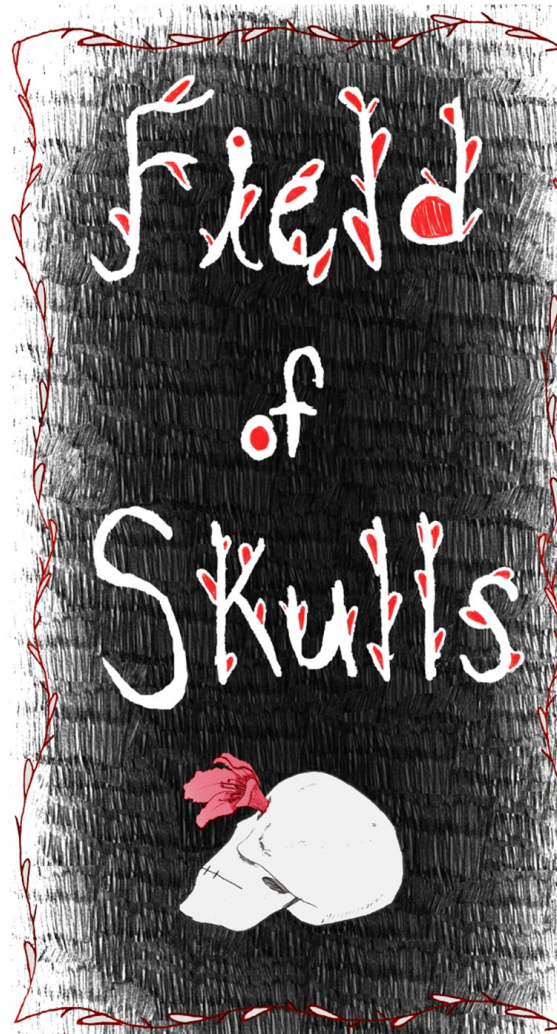

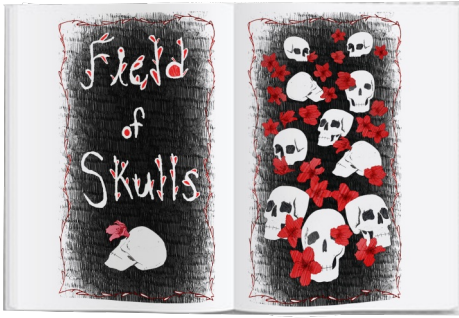

<https://www.beardeddragon.com/bearded-dragon-in-the-wild>

Bearded Dragon Lizard

Adobe Photoshop

My first scientific illustration, as well as my first drawn lizard. Drawing each of the scales individually was time consuming, but eventually worth the final result.

Field of Skulls

Ballpoint Pen & Adobe Photoshop

Made for the poem "Field of Skulls."

This piece is about the beauty that comes with Death.

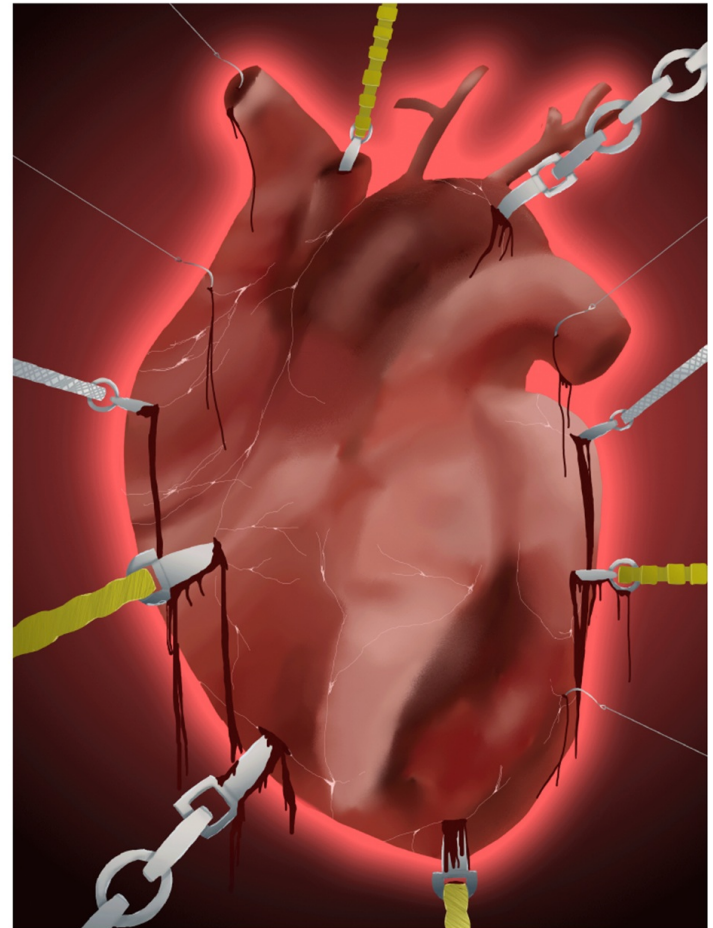

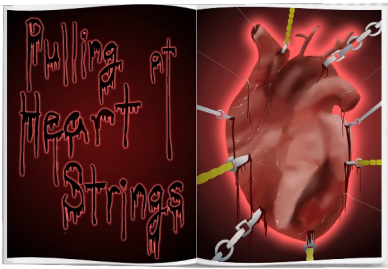

Tarot Cards: The Empress, 9 of Coins, & Back

Ballpoint Pen & Adobe Photoshop

The cobra representing power, and lavender representing the calming of anxiety.

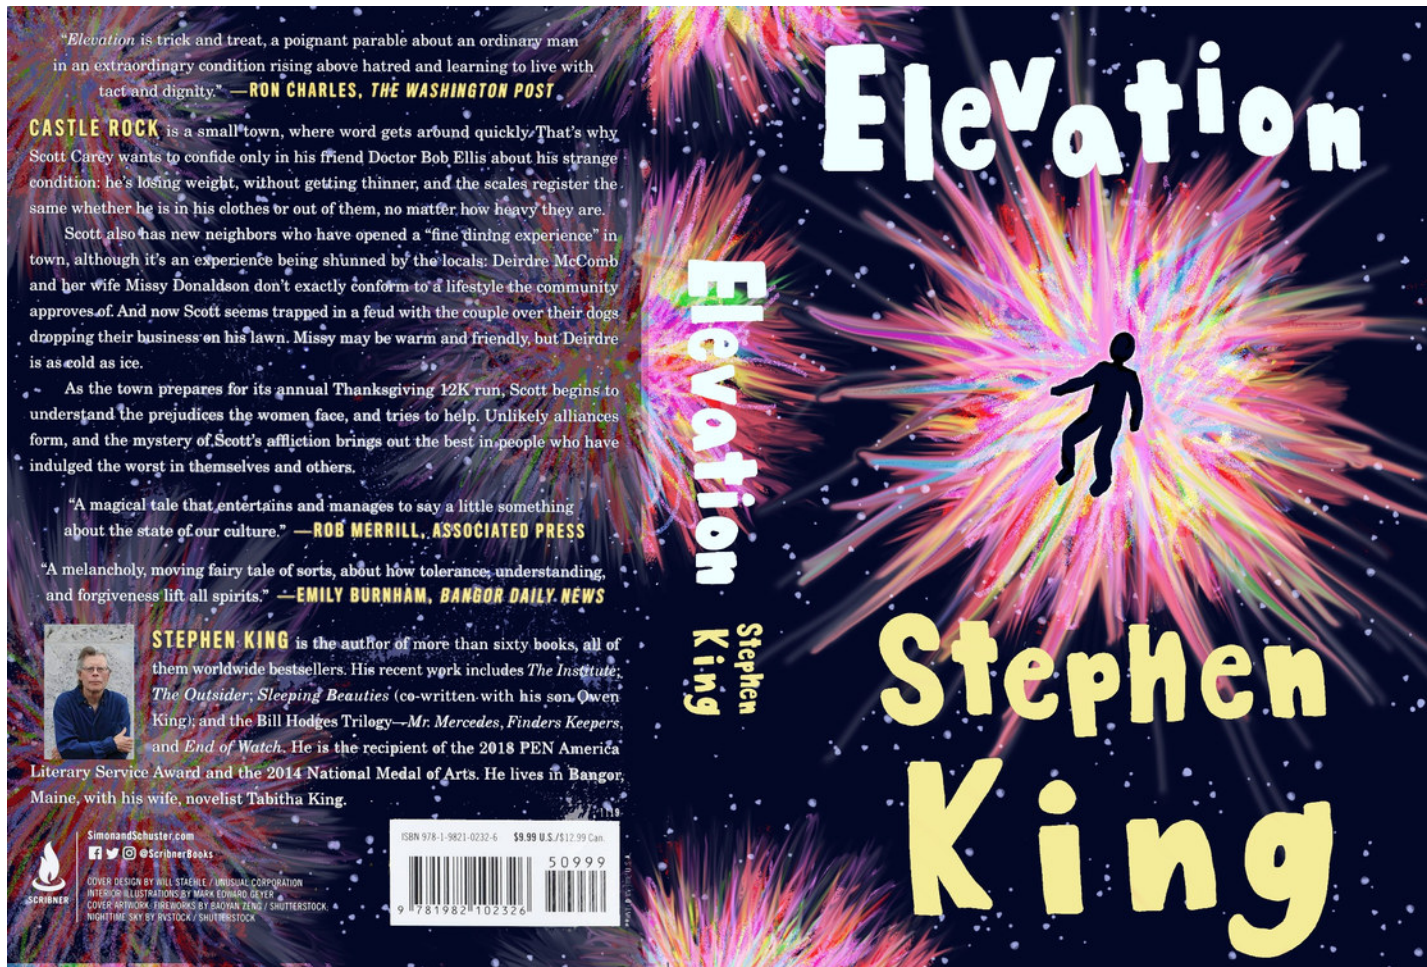

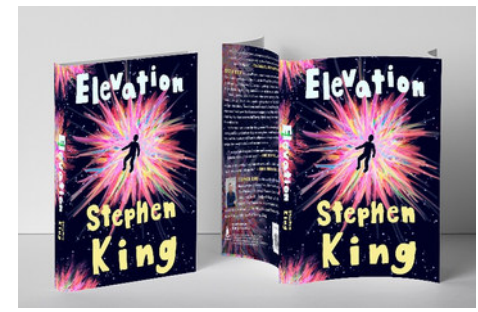

The ram and freesia representing strong will, confidence, and trusting in ones abilities.

Pulling At Heart Strings

Adobe Photoshop

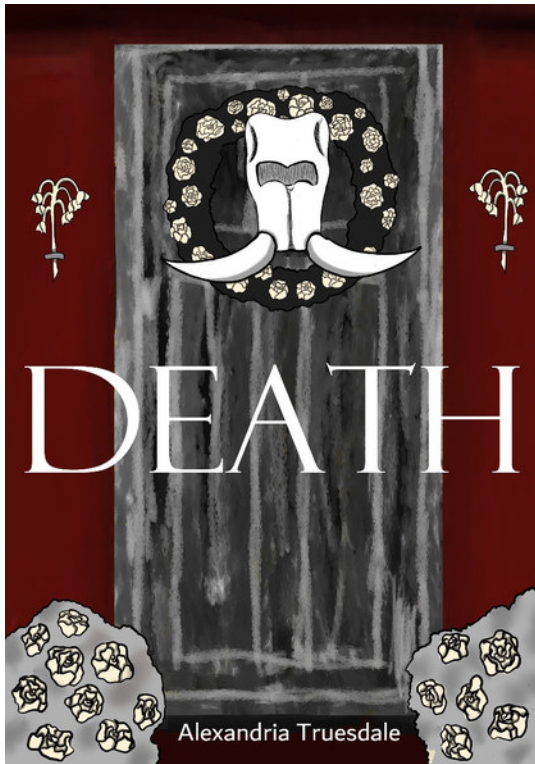

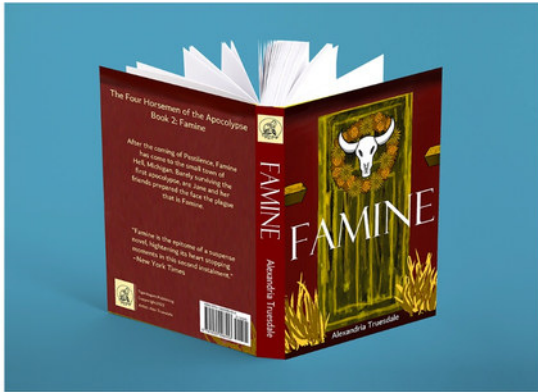

Heart getting pulled from all sides by different types of strings, all representing a different external/internal conflict one may face.

Elevation Book Cover

Adobe Photoshop

Fireworks spanning across the night sky representing the explosive ending of the story. This is when I found my love for creating book covers.

The Four Horsemen of the Apocolypse Book 2: Famine

After the coming of Pestilence, Famine has come to the small town of Hell, Michigan. Barely surviving the first apocolypse, are Jane and her friends prepared the face the plague that is Famine.

"Famine is the epitome of a suspense novel, hightening its heart stopping moments in this second instalment."
~New York Times

Tigerdogart Publishing
Copyright2022
Artist: Alex Truesdale

FAMINE

Alexandria Truesdale

Alexandria Truesdale

Horsemen Book Cover: Famine, War, Death, Pestilence

Adobe Clip Studio Paint

Book covers for the four horsemen of the apocalypse. The skulls, flower wreaths, and environments all represent its horsemen.

1

2

3

4

1

2

1 Athena's Owls Archery Club

Adobe Photoshop

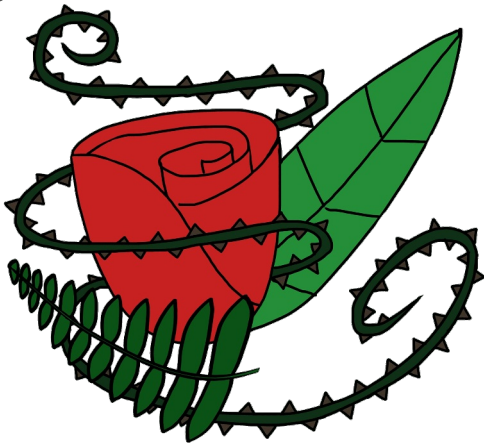

Logo for a Archery Club in Athens, Greece. The colors representing the flag, and the owl from the known familiar of the goddess Athena.

2 Montrose Boat Yard

Clip Studio Paint

Experimenting with a soft shading with hatching on top allows for a rougher texture for the anchor than originally planned.

3

4

3 Rose & Thorn Collage

Ibis Paint App

An improvised floral collage starting by me drawing a rose wrapped with thorn vines.

4 Triangle Rose

Ibis Paint App

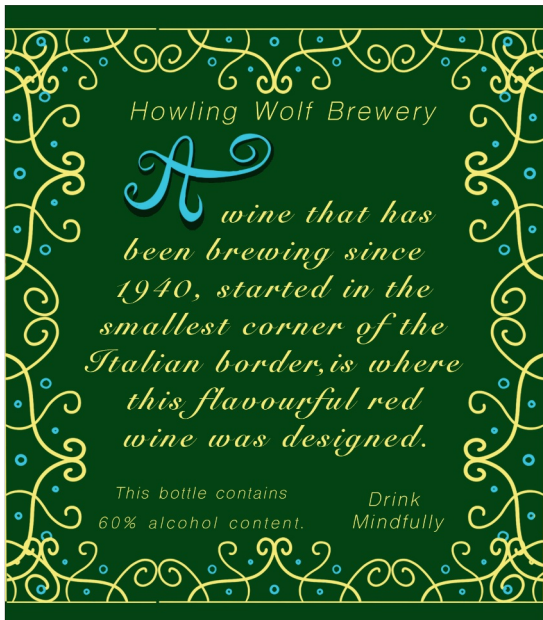

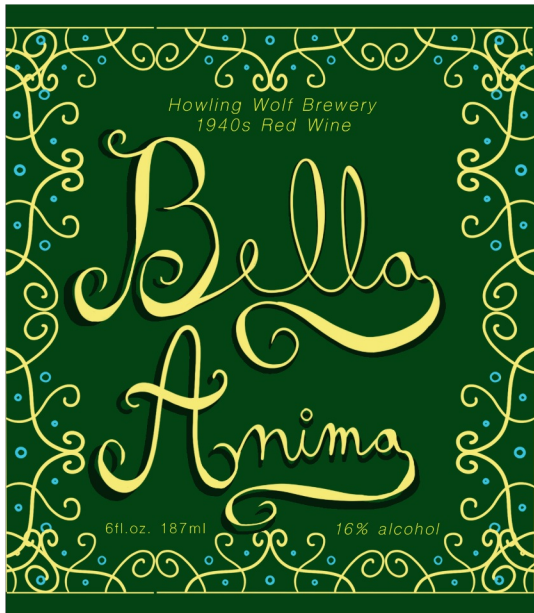

A triangle void of color with a rose growing out of it representing an out of the box thinking style that I strive for.

Snake Venom Hot Sauce

Clip Studio Paint

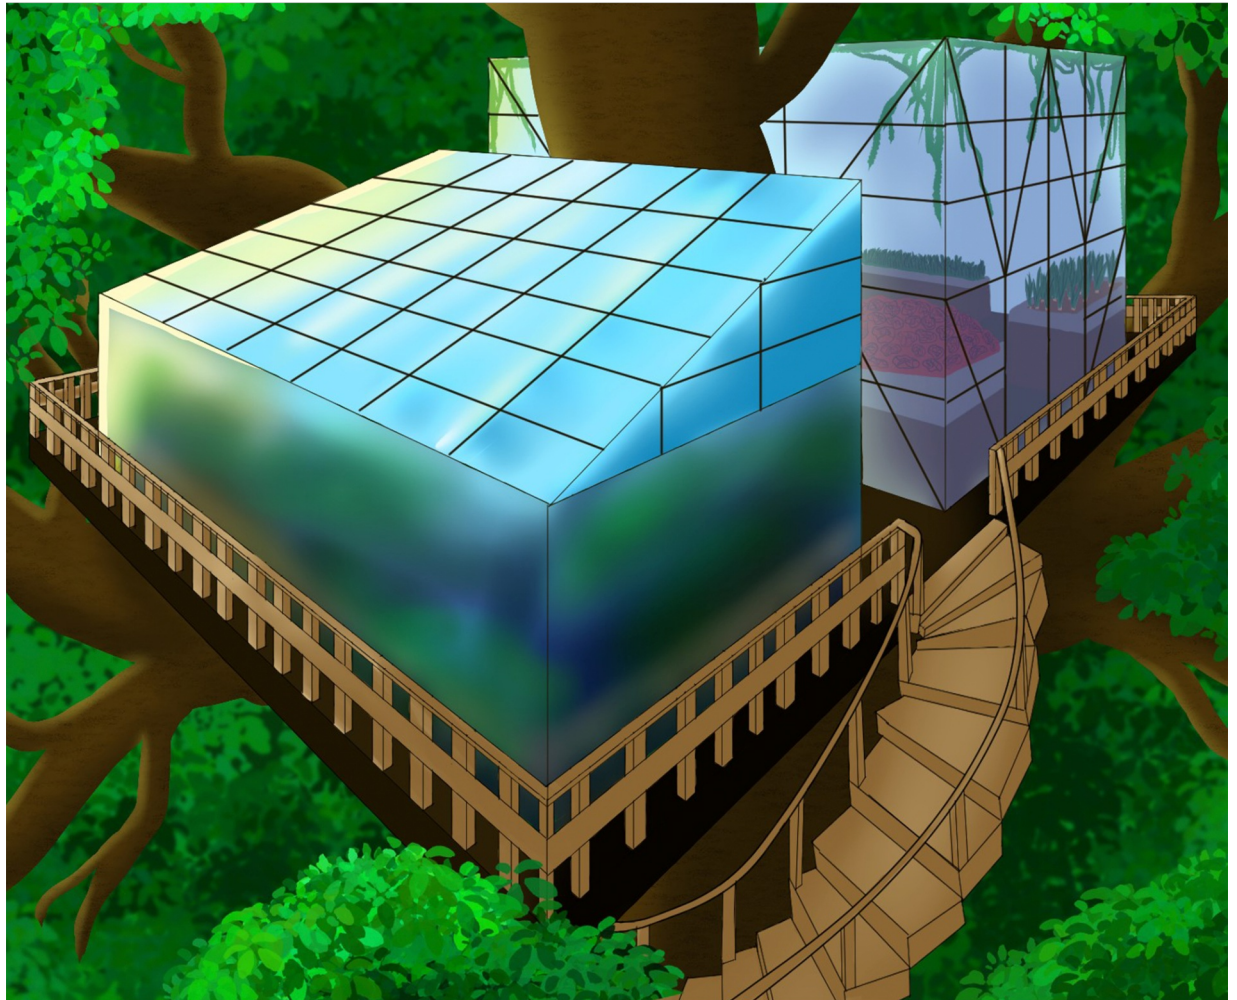

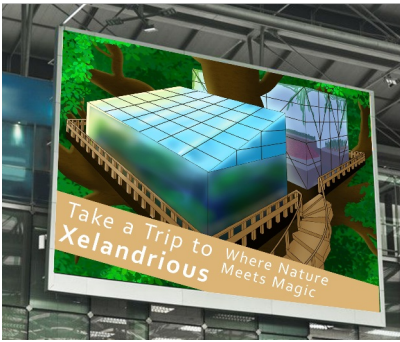

Hot sauce label for Snake Venom with a coral snake mascot representing the dangerously high spice level of the sauce.

Bella Anima Wine

Adobe Photoshop

"Bella Anima," meaning beautiful soul, is the first piece with a handmade type that I am happy with. The swirls being a comfort style of mine making it easy to get lost in its creation.

Greenhouse Treehouse

Clip Studio Paint

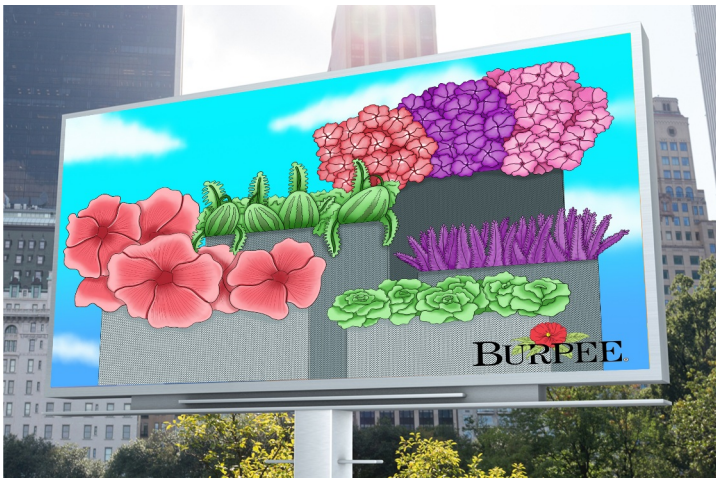

This concept art piece is for a world where nature is an integral part of peoples' lives. So much so that they need to be surrounded by it as though they live in the wild.

Italy & Hawaii

Clip Studio Paint

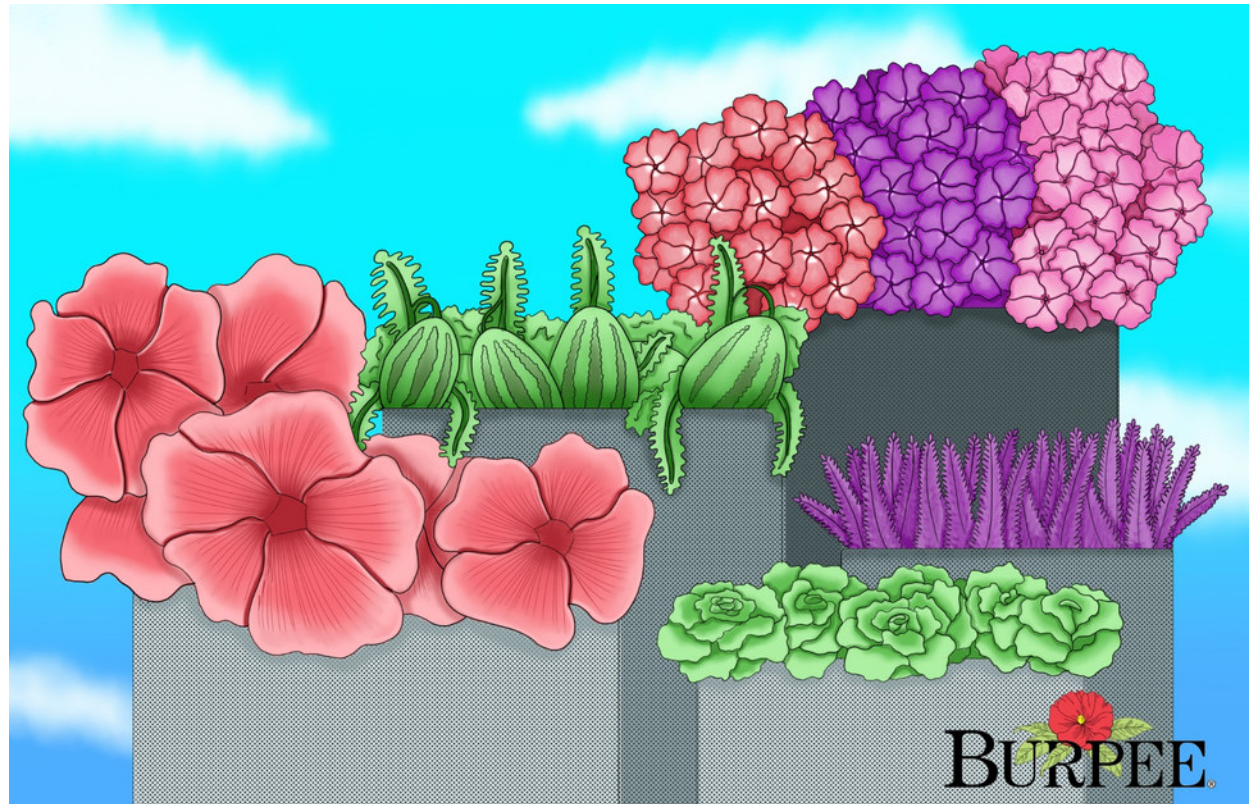

Digital landscapes based on original travel photos. Specifically photos that capture the memories of that destination.

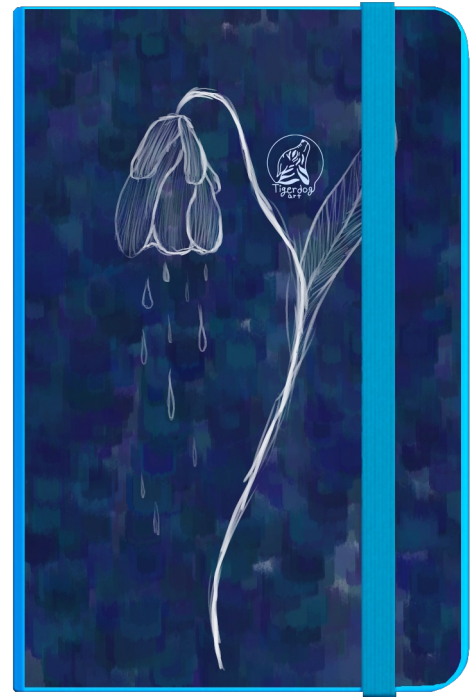

Rooftop Flowers

Adobe Photoshop

Based on the seed shop brand Burpee Seeds, this is one of my favorite floral pieces. It was an easy piece in terms of knowing exactly how to execute what I wanted, and having fun while making it.

Flower

Clip Studio Paint
Experimental sketch I
made while testing
out new brushes.
Using flowers as my comfort muse when trying new things.

tigerdogart.com
tigerdogartbusiness@gmail.com

Tigerdogart.com
Tigerdogartbusiness@gmail.com